Dear Madam:

Some time during my absence you left some coins here to be valued.
We do not value coins at this Museum so I held yours here until someone called who would be interested in them.

They have now been valued at Thirty Dollars ($30) by Mr. Wayte Raymond. If you care to sell or communicate with him at 489 Park Avenue, New York, please do so direct. I am holding the coins here.

From a collector's standpoint, there are only two or three coins worth while.
The 1799 and the 1804 were both altered
dates, and valueless.

Very truly yours,

Curator
